

On March 31st, 2008 the Amelia Police Department will partner with Creative Safety Products and the West Clermont Schools to present the "Officer Phil Program" to the students of the Amelia Elementary School.

This program, now in its eighth year here at Amelia is a unique opportunity to educate children about safety and crime prevention in a way they will understand. The Amelia elementary school will have an Amelia police officer at the school on March 31st, 2008 along with a professional from Creative Safety Products presenting two programs.

"Officer Phil" presents important information on issues such as bicycle and internet safety, bullying, and respect for others. The presentation is a live program using magic and ventriloquism along with animated characters, in a way children will understand.

All children at the elementary school will be given an age specific activity workbook to reinforce what they have learned. We encourage parents to review the workbook with their children!
